Happy Summer Everyone!

It has been a wonderful year and I have so much to share and so much to be grateful for. Following is a brief update of what has been going on at Studio 245 and the shows that will be happening for 2013 right through 2014. I hope I will see all of you at the shows. There are many different locations and many different venues. Something for everyone. Please join me on my creative journey through art.

Silk Roads I oil on linen 43 X 43"
On View at the Nan Miller Gallery

First Stop: The Nan Miller Gallery is MOVING! The new location and events will be announced later this Summer. It has been a great year at the NMG with several events and acquisitions by new and returning patrons. Thank you Nan Miller and your fantastic artist reps' design and sales team!

Happening Soon! A new exhibit of four artists who have also given their time and talents to help young and emerging artists. This exhibit will feature the work of four women artists who have made a difference in an artist's life I will be featuring several large scale original oil paintings and excerpts from my artist book, "Paint it, Tear it, Create it." Curated by Maria Rizzo.

Gallery at Syracuse Tech Gardens
235 Harrison Street - Map
Syracuse, NY 13202

Exhibit Dates: July 25th - August 20th, Opening Reception: July 25th 5-7PM,
Artist's Talk: August 8th, 5-7PM.

Fine Arts Fair at the Garden: This year I have decided to again participate in the beautiful Sonnenberg Gardens "Art at the Gardens" fine art and fine craft festival of creative arts. I hope you will stop by and see my space. I will have many new works and will offer a raffle, a chance to win one of my small encaustic pieces. There will also be many exciting speakers and presentations given at the "Mansion" See the web site for more information.
Dates: August 17th and 18th....See you there!

Next Stop! Sparky Town. It is always fun to try different venues and this super popular gathering place located in the historic Hawley-Green district of Syracuse, NY is wonderful not only for its' food but the welcoming atmosphere it gives to artists. The venue is eclectic and creative thanks to the artist owner Lauren Bristol, a wonderful artist whose work was recently displayed in the Everson Museum of Art. I will be presenting small works in encaustic and oil. Bon a petit! Exhibit dates: August 25th-October 5th, 2013, Reception: September 8th, 1-3 PM

MORE TO COME: "In the Abstract", Large scale original oil paintings will be on exhibit in the main gallery at the Rome Art and Community Center, Rome, NY

December 12, 2013— January 31, 2014

Artist Reception: Thursday, December 12, 6-7:30 PM

Art work chosen for National recognition:

- "Seeking the Numinous" oil on linen, 36 X 36" selected by Jessica Porter, Director of the RAANDESK GALLERY OF ART, NYC. This work will be included in the National

Catalog of Art representing "Stories We Tell" a national exhibition of art sponsored by the Women's Caucus for Art NYC (Fall 2013)

2014 the beat goes on: The art beat that is:

- Linda Bigness will be curating a two part exhibition of art "Luminous Journeys Beyond the Surface" an exhibit of the past, present and future trends in abstract art. First exhibit will be at the CNY SUNY Empire College Gallery opening February 13th 2024, 5:30 - 7:30 PM. The second part of the exhibit which will include invited artists will open in the Spring of 2014 at the Kirkland Art Center in Clinton, NY.
